

Call for Cases

Southeast Case Research Journal

Southeast Case Research Journal invites authors involved in case research to submit cases for publication.

Cases are accepted in the following areas:

Accounting, Finance and Quantitative Communications	Business & Society, Ethics and Law Economics
Education	Engineering and Manufacturing
Entrepreneurship and Small Business	Interdisciplinary
International and Study Abroad	Marketing
Management, Organizational Behavior	Human Resources Management
Social Science and Health Care	Strategy and Organizational Theory
Technology and Information Systems

Southeast Case Research Journal is committed to furthering the use of the case method in education and embraces case research from all disciplines. We are seeking good qualitative and quantitative cases that are acceptable for classroom use. Cases submitted should follow the parameters for case research and be written with the student in mind. Cases submitted for publication are blind-reviewed. Formatting instructions for cases submitted to the Southeast Case Research Journal may be found at www.secra.org. Cases may be submitted in electronic format to

Michael Ritchie, Editor

michaelr@usca.edu

or

Kathleen W. Wates, Associate Editor

kittyw@usca.edu